

- Helps protect metal parts against damaging corrosion
- Designed to prevent fluid breakdown at higher operating temperatures
- Provides excellent low temperature flow characteristics for cold weather start-up
- Helps reduce sludge and varnish build-up

- Meets most warranty requirements for U.S., European and Japanese cars and light trucks with gasoline and gasoline turbo charged engines where API SM, SL, SJ or SH are specified
- Protection against high temperature deposits that can damage your engine
- Reduced friction and wear at engine start-up in cold weather
- Maximum protection against viscosity breakdown
- Protects engines under demanding stop and go driving conditions
- Meets the highest U.S. standards for automotive engine wear protection
- Protects against the formation of sludge and varnish deposits on engine parts
